

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Image data to be the frame image is pre-stored in a display memory, while only an updating area in a display memory, namely an area image
5 data of a specific area, is DMA transferred. Therefore, the amount of data transfer required for the captured image data is reduced, and the numbers of operation times of transferring the image data is also reduced.